

Highways Reporting Quick Guide

Our commitment to delivering a consistent and responsive customer experience for Suffolk

What is our commitment?

We aim to make a tangible difference to those who use the highway network by providing responses to enquiries which seek to swiftly and appropriately address concerns, following reporting.

We received more than 50,000 reports between 1st April 2024 and 31st March 2025

How do we assess reports?

We assess each and every report and, when appropriate, repair or rectify reported issues.

Financial and practical considerations mean that we must prioritise our work based upon location, road category and severity of the defect.

Our Highways Maintenance Operational Plan contains more information on this approach. You can also view our Reactive Service Quick Guide.

What is our response timeframe?

All enquiries are acknowledged and we aim to provide a full response within 20 working days.

Where can I find out about highways services?

Visit our website's Roads and Transport page, providing information on our services, including:

What is the best way to report something?

The Highways Reporting Tool is the most efficient way to log a report quickly and easily online. These reports are submitted directly to operational staff for assessment.

If the same issue has already been reported you don't need to report it again. Multiple enquiries will not change the status or speed of the investigation.

To check for updates on existing reports, enter the road name, parish, postcode or customer reference number in the search facility on the map, or zoom in to the location then click on the coloured pin for information.

Enter road name, postcode or customer reference number to zoom to the location of your report.

If no report already exists for this issue, please plot the fault by clicking or tapping on the map before filling in the form.

Grit Bins that are serviced are shown as  - for a request to refill, please plot over the relevant bin.

Do not report a highways problem online if:

- It poses an immediate danger to public safety -
