

WE'RE ALL WIRED DIFFERENTLY.

We all see the world in our own way,

Some feel bright, some feel grey.

We all have thoughts we keep inside,

Some we share, some we hide.

We learn and grow at different speeds,

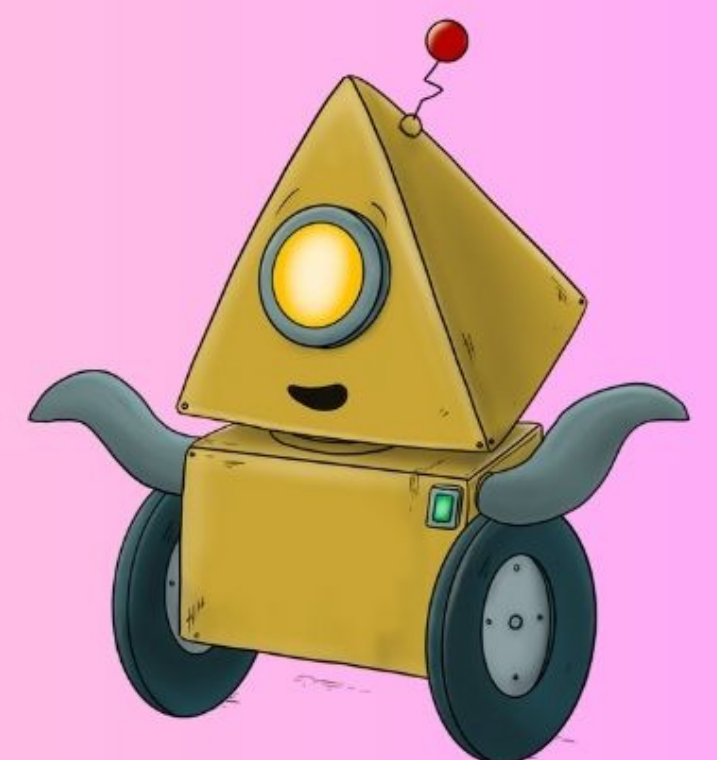

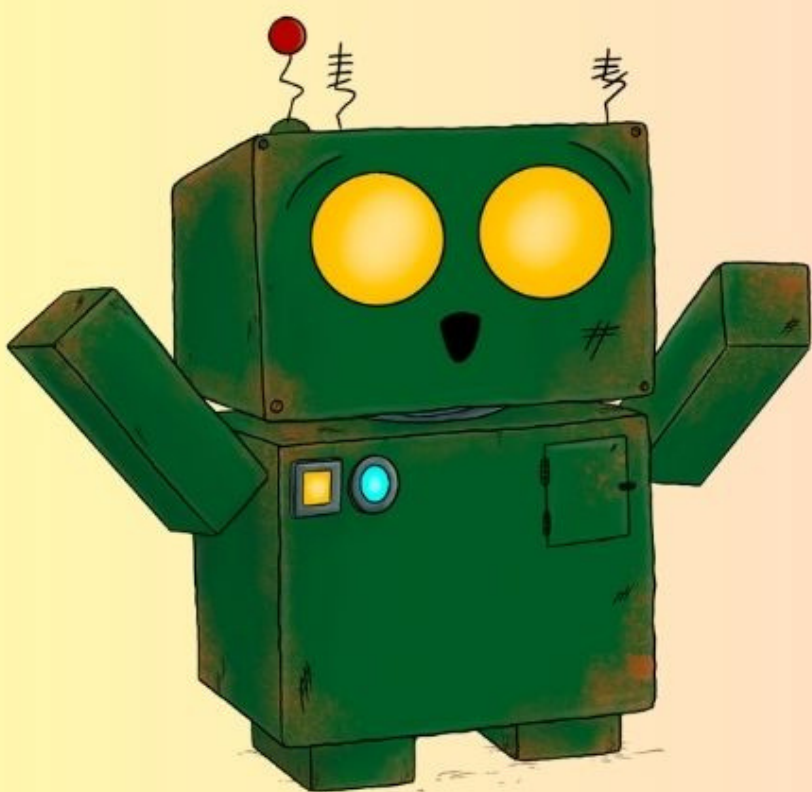

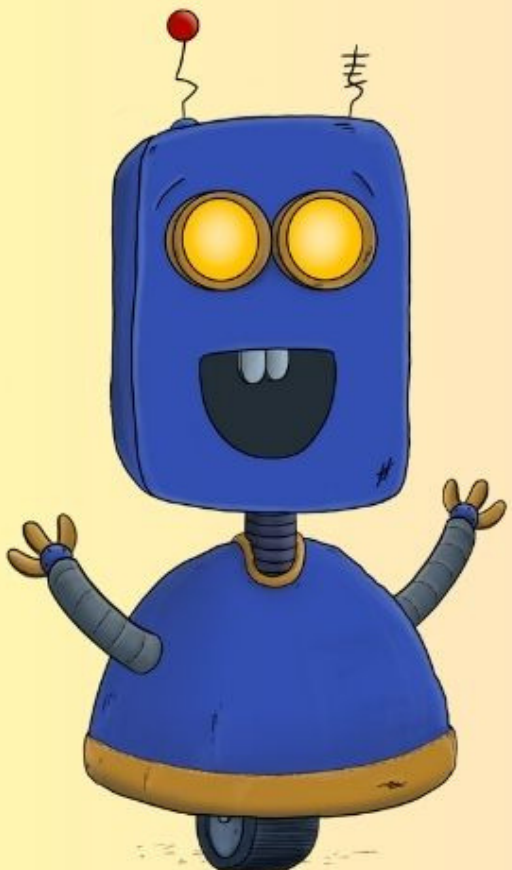

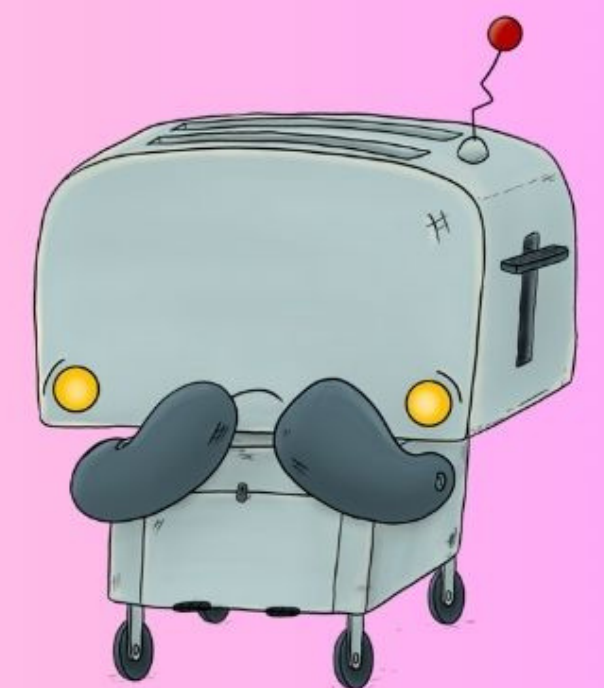

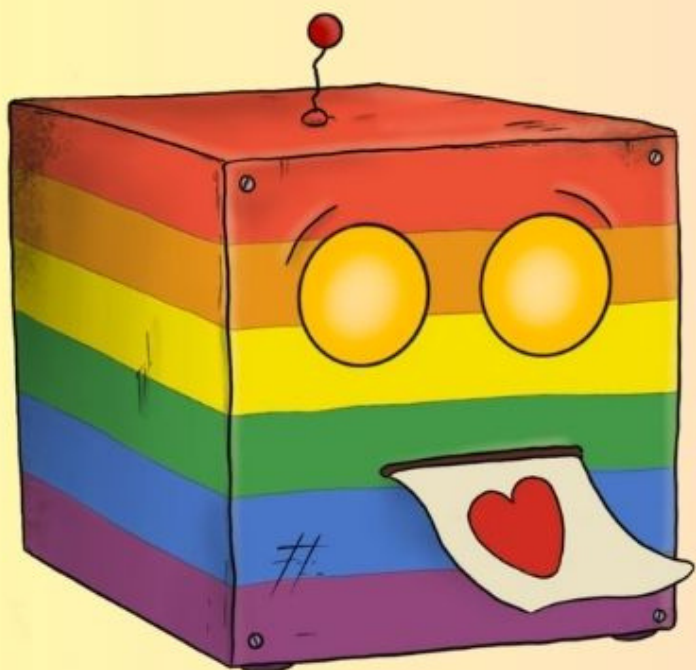

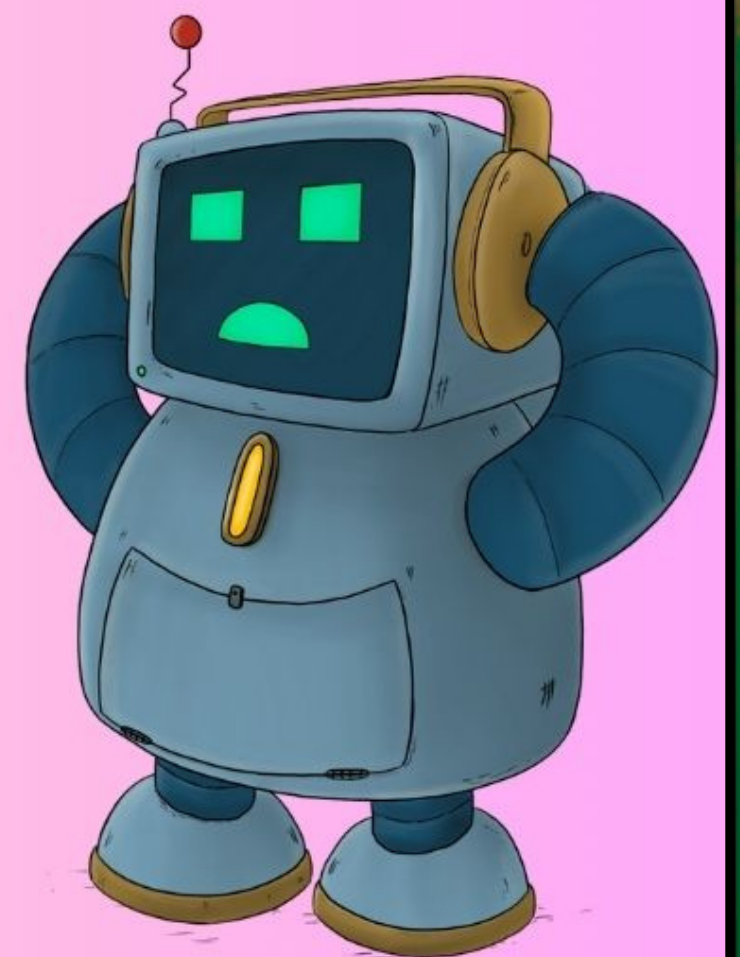

Like flowers blooming from tiny seeds.

Some ask why and some ask how,
Some just marvel at the now.

We're all a puzzle, piece by piece,
So let's build a world where kindness speaks.

Let's be gentle, kind, and true,

We're all wired different just like you!
