

Rebecca Sleightholme Inclusion Facilitator BA (Hons)

Experience/About me

I hold a Degree in Early Childhood Studies. I have worked with children and young people in a variety of sectors including Early years, Residential children's homes and Family support, before joining the Inclusion Facilitator Team.

What's important to me as an Inclusion Facilitator

- Building positive working relationships and trust with children and young people.
- Working with individuals to chase their dreams and have a better future.
- To improve children's confidence and self-esteem, social skills and encourage them to achieve their best.
- Ensuring the child or young person is at the centre of all we do, maximising inclusion and connection for all.
- Working together with other professionals to improve children and young people's outcomes.

What people like and admire about me...

My colleagues say I am approachable, an active listener and am reflective in my practice.

It is important to me to spend time getting to know a child or young person and build trust, to empower them to chase their dreams and have a better future.

How best to support me and communicate with me

I appreciate constructive feedback, so I can reflect on my practice and continue my professional development.

I work best by taking the time to plan ahead and remain organised. Sharing clear expectations helps me in my work.
