DEVELOPING SKILLS IN HEALTH AND SOCIAL CARE

Part-funded by the European Social Fund (ESF)

Do you know someone working in Adult Health and Social Care who would benefit from some mentor advice and guidance, Functional skills qualifications, L1 courses, L2 accredited units or L4 Bespoke training?
Then please get in touch developingskills@suffolk.gov.uk or visit our website www.norfolk.gov.uk/developingskills

Here's the low down on our Functional Skills qualifications

Our project offers functional skills in Maths, English and ICT - Entry to level 2.

Functional skills play a huge part in roles within adult health and social care, they are based around real-life situations that you may encounter day-to-day or at work such as report writing, measuring medication and completing electronic timesheets.

Are you looking to complete an apprenticeship? Functional Skills qualifications provide an equivalent option to GSCEs (O' level or other equivalents) that can allow you to develop and progress through to further training such as an apprenticeship.
Nurses and health assistant roles require minimum of level 2 also.
